To our Wexner Heritage Village residents, families and community,

When we began preparing for the potential arrival of the Corona virus to Columbus, we informed you of the many safety measures we were taking and assured you we would share news of any outbreaks on our campus. To that end, we want to share the news that one of our WHV staff members tested positive for COVID 19. This case is not on our campus, but we want to be transparent with you and keep you informed.

Last week, a Zusman Community Hospice nurse was exposed to COVID-19 while caring for patients at an outside facility, unaffiliated with Wexner Heritage Village. Upon learning of the exposure on site, the nurse was immediately quarantined. Unfortunately, the nurse has since tested positive for the virus. It is important to note, this nurse had no contact with any Wexner Heritage Village patients, residents, staff or facilities since being exposed and poses no risk to the health and wellbeing of anyone on WHV's campus. All safety precautions and reporting took place immediately by Zusman Hospice Executive Director, Talitha Berfield.

Wexner Heritage Village presently has no positive COVID-19 cases on our campus.

Our prayers go out to our staff member and all of the frontline heroes that care for our community each day.

We will continue to update this document with important news, so please check back regularly.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call Leslie Fulford, WHV Director of Community Outreach at 614-559-0268 or email lfulford@whv.org.

Stay safe,

Chris Christian
